VOL. XVII.—NO. 128. PORTLAND, OREGON: TUESDAY, JULY 3, 1877. PRICE—TEN CENTS.

GENERAL NEWS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

The Strike in the Tribune Office.

NEW YORK, July 2.—The Tribune says editorially in reference to the printers' strike: "There is no need of compositors, no members in no need of typographical union number six, or any printers' trade union need apply under any circumstances or at any price.

Protecting Its Employes

NEW YORK, July 2.—The Tribune prints the following prominently: "The Tribune will pay all expenses necessary for the prompt conviction of any person guilty of assailing our employes on their way to or from work."

New York Collectorship.

NEW YORK, July 2.—The Sun says Fenton says that the collectorship of New York has been offered him, and declares no change is probable.

Foreign Ministers.

Special cable dispatches say Bancroft Davis will soon ask his resignation being accepted. Other changes during autumn.

Pedestrianism.

NEW YORK, July 2.—O'Leary started on his contract to walk 520 miles in six days at midnight.

Another Severe Storm.

HARRISBURG, Pa., July 1.—A severe wind storm passed over this section this afternoon. At Freedom, a small town three miles from here, the damage was very heavy. Twenty dwellings were made houseless in a few minutes, their dwellings have been razed to the ground. The fine new seminary of Richard Fulton was also destroyed. A woman named Hopkins was instantly killed, and five persons injured, two fatally. A meeting is to be held here to extend aid to the sufferers.

CINCINNATI, July 1.—The Times' Columbus, Ind., special says a destructive storm passed over Jackson county last night. The house of Mr. Brunner was demolished and the entire family, five in number, instantly killed. A large number of cattle were killed and the crops nearly totally destroyed. As far as reported as yet we five persons have been killed and twenty wounded. There are fears that the number of deaths will be increased when further reports are heard.

CINCINNATI, July 1.—Another terrific hurricane passed through central Ohio last night, doing considerable damage to crops, fences, buildings, and in some instances causing serious losses. Near Richmond, Indiana, a train was blown on a bridge while two men were crossing in a buggy. One was instantly killed and the other dangerously injured. A number of dwellings were damaged, but no other casualties reported. Springfield, Mount Vernon, Zanesville, Canal, Dover and other small towns suffered considerably by violence of the wind.

MEMPHIS, July 1.—During the prevalence of a heavy thunder storm early this morning lightning struck the agitator and cooper shops of the Memphis car works in Lawrenceville and burned them to the ground. Cooperage, machinery and several thousand barrels of crude oil were totally destroyed; loss $30,000, fully insured.

CHICAGO, July 1.—The wind swept over O'Fallon station on the Ohio and Mississippi road last night, unroofing the depot, Episcopal and Catholic churches and several residences were considerably damaged. The storm extended to Belleville, doing much damage along the Illinois Central railroad. There was much of damage in the line of the storm.

ALBANY, N. Y., July 1.—Since Saturday night the heaviest fall of rain for years. Canal is over its banks all along the line. Many have overflowed the flats more rapidly than ever before. Heavy damages to crops anticipated.

CHICAGO, July 2.—The telegraph brings news of severe wind and rain storms in Southern Indiana and Ohio on Saturday and Sunday. Loss of life is reported in numerous places, and great damage to buildings and crops.

CHICAGO, July 2.—As advices come in from the interior from the telegraph, it is evident that the storm of wind and rain of Saturday night was even more destructive of life and property than the previous one. Its centre seems to have been through the counties of Indiana and Ohio lying a little south of the centre of the states. At Waverly, Morgan county, Indiana, about 9 o'clock at night the storm struck the residence of Geo. Hall, blowing it entirely away. Dressler Hall and near by badly injured. His wife and two children—five and three years old—were killed outright. Another child, twelve years old, died yesterday. Another child, seven years old, received a scalp wound. The house of Joseph Armstrong, near by, was blown down, killing one child. Another has died. Near St. Paul, Mo., a number of dwellings, churches and school houses were entirely destroyed. Michael Mebeslich and Mrs. Ritken fatally injured. C. J. Hunter injured internally and John Lewis' leg was broken. At Jolly, Ind., a new church was entirely torn to pieces. Farmers lost heavily. A large number of cattle were killed, fences leveled and barns and outhouses destroyed. In the vicinity of Columbus, Ind., it is estimated the damage will reach $100,000.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 2.—A terrible storm visited this vicinity yesterday. It unroofed houses, blew down barns and trees. Much damage is done. Its course was southeast through a thickly populated.

JOHNSTOWN, N. Y., July 2.—This place was visited by a storm on Monday afternoon by a terrific storm. Barns and outbuildings were blown down, and cattle killed. Houses on Main street with a costly wall, was unroofed. Much damage was done to crops.

Secessionism in Kentucky.

LOUISVILLE, July 2.—A Mount Vernon special says: At midnight Saturday nearly armed men attacked the house of Jas. Bethune, a Republican, and summoned him to surrender. He refused, and was fired upon, but managed to escape after killing one of the attacking party. They entered Mount Vernon, set the jail and took therefrom four men, charged with robbery, took them a mile from town and hung them. There is considerable excitement but no outbreak is anticipated.

An Old Senator Dead.

CONCORD, N. H., July 1.—Hon. Robertson Burnham died to-day, aged 61. He was one of the first senators when Maine was admitted into the Union.

Generals of the Army.

ST. LOUIS, July 1.—Gen. Sherman, accompanied by Gens. Pope and Bacon, arrived yesterday en route to the Yellowstone to inspect military posts.

The St. John Sufferers.

ST. JOHN, N. B., July 1.—Rain fell heavily yesterday and to-day and the people in tents are drenched. Many sought shelter in sheds. Two women and one man were conveyed to the hospital, sick.

Divorce Procured.

NEW YORK, July 2.—A daughter of one of the famous twins, lately procured a divorce from her husband in North Carolina.

Irregularities in a Life Insurance Co.

The receiver of the American Popular Life Insurance Co. states that the books are full of irregularities. They show that officers have been guilty of fraud and perjury.

Sunday Excursionists.

The Times says over, 40,000 excursionists left the city yesterday by various steamers and railroads. The Times dispatched a score of reporters in all directions, and in no instance has a case of disaster or drunkenness.

South Carolina Elections.

NEW YORK, July 2.—The Times' Charleston special, discussing the recent elections to fill vacancies in the legislature, says the unanimity with which Republicans stayed away from the polls is as great an evidence of party unity as if they had polled a solid vote. The result is practically the same. The Democrats refused seats to men elected by a majority in November, would not be admitted, and a Republican delegation now. The Clear attempt to vote had not resulted in bloody riots, they would have been counted out, as they were some weeks ago in Orangeburg.

Darlington county on the same day elected a Democratic Senator in place of R. F. Whitemore. That county is fairly Republican by 2,000 majority. The truth is that the Republicans of South Carolina realize the fact that they have not only the great Democratic party to fight, but also the party of the North, which once fought through a great war to give them freedom. If the Hayes policy was invented to prevent disputed elections in the South hereafter, it is a great success. There will be no necessity for electoral commissions in 1880, so far as the South is concerned.

Vanderbilt's Grandson in Jail.

NEW YORK, June 2.—Oakley S. Barker, aged 22, grandson of the late Commodore Vanderbilt, has been arrested on a charge of stealing a gold watch chain from a young woman whom he knew. It is said Barker, yesterday, the day he spent in the court and in the Tombs, came into the possession of an annual income of $10,000.

NEW YORK, July 2—Barker, grandson of the late Commodore Vanderbilt, has been committed for trial in default of bail for his larceny. The detective who arrested Barker says he had previously stolen clothing from his boarding house, and a gold chain from Mr. May whom he was visiting decoration day. Barker's mother was left by her father the commodore, the interest on $50,000.

The Business Situation.

NEW YORK, July 2.—A careful comparison of clearing house returns of eleven leading cities of the United States shows a gradual decline in business from the last year; even at Boston, which has heretofore held its own; and at Baltimore, the decline was remarkably large last week. The only encouraging feature is a steady improvement at Pittsburg and Louisville. There are small gains at New York and at New Orleans, attributable chiefly to speculative operations. There is no evidence of a general improvement in other business, even in comparison with the very dull month last year. Shipments of grain from western ports for two weeks ending June 16th, have fallen off as compared with same time last year, when the total shipments were 10,000,000 as against 6,000,000 this year.

Attempted Suicide.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 2.—Col. Jo. Martin, secretary of the Masonic State Mutual Benefit Insurance Association, attempted suicide this morning by stabbing himself. He is still living, but will probably not recover.

A Blockaded Canal.

BALTIMORE, July 2.—The blockade of boats on the Chesapeake and Ohio canal has assumed such proportions that on Saturday the sheriff of Washington county, Pa., accompanied by the state attorney went to Hancock and broke it up. The blockading squadron comprised from 30 to 40 boats, moored abreast to prevent other boats passing, delaying about 200 boats. The blockade was caused by strikers striving to prevent boats working for less than a dollar per ton for carrying coal from Cumberland to Tide Water.

Over the Falls.

NIAGARA FALLS, July 2.—Three men, Floy, Bellinger and Pierce, were boating in Niagara river, above the falls, last evening, when the boat got into the rapids. Bellinger and Pierce jumped out and attempted to swim to shore, but were carried over the falls. Floy remained in the boat and was rescued.

Money and Stocks.

NEW YORK, July 2.—Silver bars 124¾ greenbacks, 118 gold; silver coin, ¾ discount; gold closed at 5⅝; money 1¾@2; governments firmer; stocks opened higher, but reacted in the afternoon; Western Union, 58¾; Quicksilver, 13½; Pacific Mail, 19½; Mariposa, 1½; Wells Fargo, 84; New York Central, 90; Erie, 6½; Panama, 96; Union Pacific, 64; Bonds, 105; Central Pacific bonds, 107.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

Councilmen Suspended.

PARIS, July 1.—The prefect has suspended the municipal council at Amiens, replacing it by an administrative commission.

French Elections.

The council of ministers yesterday determined the date of the elections, but resolved not to make the determination public. It is believed the date is August 5th.

Review of French Troops.

PARIS, July 1.—The grand annual review of the garrison of Paris, concerning which there had been some disquieting reports, was held to-day in Bois De Bologne, and passed off without any unusual incidents. President MacMahon was well received by the public.

Council Dissolved.

PARIS, July 2.—The municipal council of Amiens will be dissolved, because it participated in the reception of Gambetta. It is expected the council of Marseilles will share the same fate.

MacMahon's Order.

President MacMahon's order of the day to the troops who participated in the Longchamps review yesterday concluded as follows: "I am sure you will aid me to maintain respect for the government and law in the fulfillment of the mission entrusted to me, and which I will discharge to the end."

Bismarck at Home.

BERLIN, July 1.—Prince Bismarck has arrived.

Bishop Dead.

PARIS, July 1.—The bishop of Perpignan is dead.

Greek Loan.

ATHENS, July 1.—The Greek government has contracted a loan of 20,000 drachmas with the National and Ionian Banks.

Silver and Bonds.

LONDON, July 2.—Silver, 53¾; consols, 94 7-16; 4½ bonds, 105½; new 5s 108¾; Erie, 6¼.

Bank of England.

LONDON, July 2.—Amount of bullion gone into the Bank of England on balance to-day £76,000.

Bismarck's Movements.

BERLIN, July 2.—Bismarck reached here yesterday, remained a short time, left at noon for Scoonhauzen, and will proceed to Friedenuchauher, returning to Varsin via Berlin in the course of a week.

Grecian Finance Policy.

ATHENS, July 2.—A royal decree has been issued giving a forced currency to notes of the national and Ionian banks in pursuance of the contract for a loan of 20,000,000 drachmas.

Relieving St. Johns.

LIVERPOOL, July 2.—The citizens contributed $14,000 for St. Johns, N. B., sufferers.

British Revenue Receipts.

LONDON, July 2.—The British revenue receipts for the last three months increased over $2,500,000 compared with the corresponding period of 1876.

MEXICO.

Mexico More Quiet.

NEW YORK, July 2.—A City of Mexico letter, dated June 18th, says:

Affairs in this country are now settling down to peaceful order as rapidly as was expected. Gen Diaz has not yet made a change of cabinet that has been expected, and now it is supposed that there will not be any other changes made unless forced on him. Diaz has began to see the impossibility of satisfying all parties by raising to party, and unless he pays at least an outward respect to this much abused document, he cannot expect the support of the moderate men of the country. Romero is doing his utmost to meet the many claims against the Diaz government, but owing to the fact that the treasury is empty, he has not made much headway.

Capt. John Jay Smith, who was arrested and thrown into prison in Matamoras by Revueltas, has been paid, by order of Gen. Diaz, the sum of $2,000 as damages. Smith is a personal friend of Diaz.

Fails, American vice consul at Matamoras, whose store was broken open and goods confiscated, has not yet been able to have his claim acknowledged. The government appears to be throwing every possible obstacle in the way of settlement. All those Americans who have claims against the Diaz government are urging a speedy settlement.

The order to Gen. Ord is fuelling a hostile feeling against the United States.

THE WAR IN THE EAST.

Effect of Russia's Success in England.

LONDON, July 1.—The effect in England of the Russian success has been to excite discussion about British interests. Anti-Russian newspapers like the Daily Telegraph and Morning Post, are greatly excited, and call for instant preparation to protect the interests and honor of the country which lie under a most direct and dreaded menace. They find the Czar's proclamations and revolutionary manifestos, indicating a determination to annex Bulgaria. They add to this the repeated intention of Russia to claim the Armenian and Turkish ironclad fleet as indemnity, and to enforce the free passage of the Dardanelles, and that such changes would rob England of every real rampart for her eastern empire; but it is noticeable that papers of a quite different class are beginning to exhibit uneasiness. The Economist calls attention to the probability that the Dardanelles are to be kept closed against the Russians by force. England must do it alone; because other powers are not sufficiently interested in that respect to justify the anticipation of their co-operation. The Observer declares the time has arrived when the government should know itself and be prepared to enforce its views when necessity demands. Anti-Turkish papers are very guarded in their comments, and devote their attention chiefly in the discussion of Austria's position, and attacking the ministry for not taking the opportunity to make a further declaration of policy. The Daily News yesterday declared it was common report that the demand for an extraordinary credit, of which so much is lately heard, have not been abandoned, but will be brought forward later on, and perhaps in a somewhat modified form. If the ministry could get over some internal obstacles to perfect unanimity, the demand would be made at once. The News believes the position of England remains unchanged until prorogation, and ministers and parliament are scattered in the country. Lord Beaconsfield and those of his colleagues who think with him, may commit the country to a policy which would never have been accepted if there had been free and timely communications between the government and the house of commons.

Saturday's Review sums up the political situation, so far as concerns European Turkey, thus:

At the end of a costly campaign, though it may perhaps have been victorious, Russia will depend on the permission of Austria to effect a permanent conquest in Turkey.

Weakness of Turkey.

LONDON, July 1.—Suspicions and suggestions of treachery are rife. Russophile writers, however, find the explanation in the conviction that the Turkish army itself has little heart in the struggle and that its unpaid legions and their equally unpaid officers are not strongly adverse to a change in their condition, knowing it cannot be worse. Should they be shut up in their entrenchments they may resist with characteristic obstinacy, but there seems to be an utter absence of that activity which is always the result of heartiness in a struggle, and it would not be astonishing to see the whole Turkish forces strangely collapse. This view is markedly variant from accounts of the Turkish-Danube army given by correspondents within its lines. The truth probably is that the Russians ascertained where the Turkish line was weakest through spies and deserters and took an intelligent advantage of such information. It is improbable that the Turks have an army within speaking distance of every point available for crossing on a line of nearly 300 miles.

Operations at Sistova.

LONDON, July 1.—A Russian official dispatch dated Simnitza, June 29th, does not mention any further fighting. It says the bridge to Sistova is being constructed without impediment. The passage of troops by pontoon bridges continues.

Fighting all along the Line.

A Vienna correspondent telegraphs that the Turks have evacuated Nikopolis.

Barely a third of the houses in Giurgevo are left standing.

Cylinders filled with an inextinguishable compound have been fired between Rustchuk and Giurgevo.

There seems to be an intention to attack Shumla from the southeast.

Wire Cut.

PERA, July 1.—The telegraph wires between Rustchuk, Nikopolis, Sistova and Pera are apparently cut.

Roumanian War Feeling.

BUCHAREST, July 1.—A warlike tendency is exhibited by the Roumanian cabinet. The crossing of the Danube by the Roumanian army is said to be decided upon. The text of the national treaty with Russia has not transpired as yet, but war, it is supposed, will be carried on independently against Turkey.

The British and German Fleets.

LONDON, July 1.—Specials from Athens say the British Mediterranean fleet will leave Phaleron Bay, Monday, with sealed orders. The German fleet has arrived at Port Said.

Reported Russian Defeat.

A special from Shumla reports a large force of Russians advancing inland have been defeated at Bjela with considerable loss.

Murderous Emeute.

A murderous emeute has broken out at Rustchuk against the Christian population.

Great Battle near Sistova.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 1.—A terrible battle is raging near Sistova, reinforcements are being hastily forwarded from Rustchuk, Shumla and Nichopolis. The Turks are still holding their ground and their artillery is inflicting great loss upon the Russians.

Battle Imminent at Bjela.

Abdul Kerim, replying to a telegram sent him to-day (Sunday) by the council of ministers, reports that up to the present time 60,000 Russians have crossed the Danube. A battle is imminent at Bjela which is expected to last several days.

Servia's Attitude toward the Porte.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 1.—Minister Layard reassured the Porte relative to the pacific intentions of Servia. Layard has complained of non-execution of the promised amnesty to Bulgarians and other grievances, particularly outrages of Seebecks encamped near Pera. French residents of Pera have informed the French embassy that their wives and daughters are being insulted and that they intend to defend themselves by force of arms against further attacks, and had summoned other armed Frenchmen to their assistance.

The Horrors of War.

Travelers who have arrived at Constantinople state that on the news being received at Kustendji that the Russians were approaching the Circassians fired some neighboring villages and massacred their inhabitants. Kustendji is depopulated. The British gunboat Cockatrice saved several families. On the other hand it is asserted the above reports originated in the fact that some Bulgarian gypsies, having been armed by the Russians, committed the atrocities on Mohammedan inhabitants of the Dobrudscha.

The Turks Abandon Rustchuk.

SIMNITZA, June 29.—Midnight—A report has just been received here that the Turkish army has left Rustchuk and is on the march towards Sistova. Prince Mirsky's division, which is on the flank next to Rustchuk, is entrenching itself as a precautionary measure, but it is the purpose and policy of the Russians to take the offensive.

Proclamation by the Sultan.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 1.—The Porte has published the following dispatch:

The Russians defying the rights of humanity and and without military necessity have completely destroyed Rustchuk, which is now nothing but a heap of ruins. They spared neither mosques, churches, hospitals nor public buildings. We hereby make known their act to the justice and humanity of Europe.

The Siege of Kars.

It is reported that the Russians have suspended operations against Kars in order to reinforce the army fighting at Soghenli and Bayazid.

Battle near Sukum Kaleh.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 1.—Fazle Pasha telegraphs from Sukum Kaleh that the Turks, having landed at Tchamdjosi and commenced to erect entrenchments, were, on June 27th, attacked by 15,000 Russians. Both sides were subsequently reinforced, the Turkish reinforcements arriving by sea from Batoum. The Turks, with the assistance of the ironclads, routed the Russians, with a loss of 2,000 killed and 4,000 wounded; 90 Turks killed and 230 wounded.

A telegram from the commander of the fleet confirms the foregoing, but the proportion of losses on the two sides is evidently misrepresented.

Austria's Attitude.

VIENNA, July 1.—The semi-official Montagspost publishes a remarkable leading article. After repeating and endorsing the recent ministerial statements, it says the developments afford almost a sure guarantee that the war will remain localized. The more important task will begin after peace is concluded. If Russia adheres to the unselfish views which she has repeatedly and solemnly proclaimed, and seems disposed solely to ameliorate the condition of Christians, that would constitute comparatively a very satisfactory solution, but Count Andrassy cannot possibly conceal from himself that the decision of war involves consequences which often upset the most sincere promises. There are ideas which will grow with success of Russian arms, the realization of which Austro-Hungary must endeavor to prevent with all the means in her power. Austrian diplomacy won't aid in introducing any essential changes in the hitherto existing arrangements of political power beyond improvement in the condition of the Christians in Turkey. Austria's existence is such a strong necessity that we may confidently rely upon our powerful allies who are compelled to promote the interests of Austria whilst furthering their own. If matters should come to a crisis and we should be compelled to appeal to our own valient army, we shall defend our interests to their fullest extent, and for that purpose we shall, if necessary, certainly throw the sword into the scale.

Meeting of Emperors.

LONDON, July 2.—A Berlin special says the German Empero: will meet the Emperor of Austria at Salzburg shortly.

Monitors Surrounded.

A special from Turnu Magurelli says: All the monitors now on the Danube are surrounded by torpedoes. It is believed those at Nikopolis have been abandoned by the Turks, as no sign of life has been seen on them for two or three days.

Devastating Bulgaria.

CHICAGO, July 2.—The Herald's cable special says the Turks are devastating a big portion of Bulgaria for the purpose of preventing the Russians from provisioning their army. The harvest has been carried off, the fruit trees have been felled and the torch has been applied to the large grass plains. Everything that would be of any use to an invading army has been removed or destroyed, and the people are left in utter destitution. The utmost consternation prevails among the unfortunate people, who see no prospect before them but famine and pestilence, added to the horrors of war. The terrible massacres of last year, which startled the world by their atrocities, seemed to fill the cup of Bulgarian affliction, but other horrors are in store for them. The devastation of such a densely peopled country after its resources had been drained almost to the utmost to support the large Turkish army which had been quartered there since the Servian war, is one of those terrible and cruel measures which are dictated rather by a spirit of merciless hate than by military necessity.

The Danube Abandoned.

There are indications of the intention of the Turks to abandon the line of the Danube holding on to Rustchuk and Silistria as long as possible and then fall back to the Balkans. They see clearly their inability to stem the tide of Russian invasion, and that one or two decisive battles must place Bulgaria at the mercy of the Czar. They know that the Bulgarian population will flock en masse to the Russian standard, and this is their revenge. They look upon the Czar's proclamation as an incitement to Bulgarian insurrection, and anticipate a rising as soon as the Russians fairly cross the river. The Bulgarians might as well die fighting like men for their liberty as perish miserably of hunger in their homes.

LONDON, July 2.—The Turks are removing rolling stock from Rustchuk to Varna.

A Turnu Magarell dispatch says: No crossing has taken place here. The Russians made a serious demonstration, which would have been turned into a real attack had a fair chance offered. The Russian forces are so distributed in the neighboring villages they could with equal ease fall upon Simnitza or Turnu Magarell. It was uncertain which would be chosen.

Roumanians Preparing to Cross the Danube.

NEW YORK, July 2.—Indirect cable dispatches say Roumanian forces are preparing to cross the Danube near Kalafat. A steamer filled with Roumanian soldiers was sunk on Saturday by a Turkish monitor near Rahvin.

Roumania's Object.

A Bucharest dispatch says: The objects to be obtained by Roumania in an offensive war against Turkey are the acknowledgment of the absolute independence of Roumania and dismantling of Turkish forts along the Danube, thereby placing both banks on equal footing and insuring free navigation and perpetuation of the neutralization of that river. Roumania will also claim full indemnity for war expenses and depredations of Turkish armies.

Bridge Destroyed.

A dispatch from Simnitza yesterday says the bridge began on the 28th ult. was partially destroyed and 20 pontoons sunk by a storm on the night of the 29th. The bridge will be completed this Sunday evening.

Russia Wants Horses.

BERLIN, July 2.—The Russian government having ordered the purchase of 30,000 horses, Germany will issue a decree prohibiting the export of horses from the empire. It is semi-officially stated that this measure will be solely on the ground of internal economy and not for political purposes.

General War Notes.

PARIS, July 1.—La France publishes a special, dated St. Petersburg Saturday, which says the Czar's proclamation is regarded here as a signal for a Bulgarian insurrection throughout the peninsula.

A dispatch from the Czar announces that the Turks are retreating, and all Bulgaria, except the quadrilateral, may be considered in the hands of the Russians.

M. Bagysitch will be appointed prefect of the vilayet of Rustchuk by official decree.

Saib Pasha's army has fallen back to North Albania, and Montenegro is out of danger.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 1.—An official dispatch confirms the report that the Turks have captured the Sant Bah and Rhatzubane heights, before Batoum, after a severe conflict.

A monitor from Widdin sunk a large Russian steamer which was endeavoring to embark troops and ammunition to Raphove.

BUCHAREST, July 1.—No further information has been received here about the fighting opposite Simnitza, but some details have been receive concerning the movements of the Czar. He witnessed the bombardment of Nickopolis, which was reduced to ashes after the fight at Sistova and Simnitza. He crossed the Danube near Sistova and was joyfully welcomed by the Bulgarians.

A municipal council has been called at Matchin, composed of four Bulgarians and three Roumanians, selected from residents of Matchin. Citizens were also appointed to administer justice and superintend the organization of a provincial police.

It is supposed the destination of the British fleet is Turkish waters, perhaps even Constantinople.

BUCHAREST, July 1.—Everything is reported quiet for the last two days on the Danube with the exception of a few skirmishes around Sistova.

The Turks are said to have 25,000 men between Rustchuk and Nikopolis beyond the hills. A general engagement between these forces and those of Rustchuk and Russians now occupying a position at Sistova is looked for soon.

BERLIN July 1.—According to to-day's intelligence the Russian force which crossed the Danube at Sistova are detailing flying columns for an expedition in the direction of Turnova. As the bulk of the Turks' armies still seem to keep in fortresses, the dispatch of flying columns is considered practicable.

VIENNA July 1.—A dispatch says the Russian General, Mascheny, from Erevan to relieve Bayazid, has been compelled to retire to Russian territory.

BUCHAREST, July 1.—Ten thousand Russians crossed the river on Friday at Siobosia.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Postal Changes.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—The following postal changes are noted: Offices established—Mt. Vernon, Whitman county, W. T., Harrison C Cothier, postmaster. Postmasters appointed—Joseph Hunsaker, Upper Ochoco, Wasco county, Oregon; Jas. Clark, Yainax, Lake county, Oregon.

The Office Holders' Order.

NEW YORK, July 2.—The Times' Washington special speaking of Wilson, of Iowa, and the President's order, says Wilson cannot be regarded as a public officer in the sense of the President's order any more than a commissioner to acknowledge legal documents in the several states can be so regarded. Pacific railroad directors receive no compensation from the government and have no powers conferred by the office which would enable them to influence and control conventions and caucuses, as may be done by the class of office holders possessing power and patronage and to whom the President's order is specially directed. U. S. directors of the Pacific railroads are paid by the railroad companies at the rate of $10 per diem for each day actually employed in their service and allowed mileage when traveling in pursuance of their duties. A few hundred dollars per annum will cover the entire amount received by each government director.

Delighted with his Trip.

NEW YORK, July 2.—The Tribune's Washington special says the President is greatly delighted with his trip and expresses much gratification at the cordial demonstration which greeted him everywhere he went. It was a surprise to him, for he anticipated no such spontaneous and enthusiastic manifestations of kindly feelings.

Secretary Robeson's Position.

NEW YORK, July 2.—The Tribune's special from Washington says Robeson, ex-secretary of the navy, is, according to Washington gossip, one of the bitterest opponents of the present administration. He is said to be outspoken in his denunciations of the president, declaring that he knows the kind of a secretary of the navy that would succeed him, Hayes never would have been president.

The Ex-Sec'y Thompson Suit.

The World's Washington special says the suit instituted by ex-Sec'y Chandler some time ago against Jacob Thompson for embezzlement, has been discontinued. The administration it seems ordered the discontinuance by letter from the attorney general, dated March 22. Thompson then denied that he appropriated any coin belonging to the confederacy. As to the embezzlement the old records show that was committed by officials under him.

The President Determined to Enforce his Order.

NEW YORK, July 2.—The Sun's Washington special says the President in conversation expressed himself very decidedly in regard to his civil service order. It had not been issued, he said, without full knowledge of the fact that it would cause trouble, and cost the Republican party a few votes at starting, which he felt would in time return. Of the enforcement of the order Hayes spoke with great determination, and said the first officer he detected in taking part in the management of the party would be summarily removed. After the candidates were nominated Hayes said there would be no objection made to an office holder's voting for them or working so far as it did not interfere with the discharge of official duties themselves. He did not propose to disfranchise officeholders, but he did not intend to permit them to take part in the management of the party. In regard to the action of the Iowa convention Hayes said the southern question was settled. What has been done could not be undone, and expressions of opinion on the subject were useless.

Working Up Ohio Politics.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—Democratic managers will spend considerable money in circulating documents in Ohio on the currency question, and take active measures to carry the state. A number of very prominent Democrats have agreed to engage in the canvass. Members of the Democratic national committee feel confident that the president's order forbidding federal officials participating in the campaign, will have the effect to weaken the Republican state committee in Ohio so as to render a Democratic victory certain. Republican managers here, however, take a different view.

Public Debt.

WASHINGTON, July 2.—The debt statement shows a decrease of $3,210,110.

Commission Signed.

WASHINGTON, July 2.—The commission of John L. Thomas, collector of the port of Baltimore, in the place of Wilkins, suspended, was signed by the President to-day.

Calls on the President.

WASHINGTON, July 2.—Hundreds of persons of both sexes called upon the President to-day. Those seeking office were advised to file their papers with the proper department officers.

The Treasury Department.

Assistant Secretary McCormick took charge of the treasury department to-day, Secretary Sherman leaving on his tour of inspection of the life savings service of the North Atlantic coast. McCormick was besieged by applicants for position, some of them only recently removed.

Out of Work.

The public printer to-day put a large number of compositors to work, and notwithstanding hundreds of compositors are still without employment.

Japanese Noble Dead.

The State Department is in receipt of a letter from U. S. Minister Bingham announcing the decease on the 20th ult., of his Excellency Kido Kniu, privy counsellor to the Emperor of Japan. Kido was one of the chief commissioners to the United States and Europe in 1872, regarding the revision of the treaties of Japan with foreign powers.

WEST INDIES.

Progress of the Cuban Insurrection.

NEW YORK, July 2.—Col. De Querelta, recently of the Cuban army and member of the new war commission now representing the Cuban cause in this country, says at no time since the first blow was struck for liberty nine years ago have the Cubans been so near the realization of their hopes as at the present moment, and it is a matter of regret that America should be so indifferent to our fate, and more especially the colored population, as we are not only fighting for liberty and independence, but also for the abolition of slavery. We need arms and ammunition. We have enough Cubans on the island and in exile to plant the Cuban flag even in Havana itself if we had arms and ammunition. For the last three years we have not received a single round of ammunition from outsiders. We have to fight for it and take it from the Spaniards. We, however, make a good deal of powder on the island, and then refill cartridges picked up from the enemy. This is a slow process; still our little army of 13,000 men is now well clothed, and this has enabled us the past year to maintain the offensive with considerable success. My efforts and those of my two colleagues now in this country are to open the eyes of the American people to the struggle at your own doors in one of the finest islands of the world, and to enlist not only their sympathy but the active support of their government in granting us belligerent rights.

THE GROVER INVESTIGATION.

THE SUB COMMITTEE ON PRIVILEGES AND ELECTIONS OF THE UNITED STATES SENATE, AUTHORIZED TO INVESTIGATE THE CHARGES OF CORRUPTION AGAINST THE DEFENDANT, HOLD THEIR FIRST SESSION.

[Special report for the OREGONIAN, by John W. Cochran, short hand writer and law reporter.]

At 10 o'clock yesterday morning the senatorial investigating committee held their first session in

The Daily Oregonian.

TUESDAY MORNING, JULY 3, 1877.

WHEN DOES THE GRANT EXPIRE?

From several quarters inquiries are addressed to the OREGONIAN relative to the land grant of the Northern Pacific railroad. Information is desired as to when the grant actually expires, and as to the condition of titles to lands occupied by settlers within the limits of the grant. But the thing which parties interested chiefly want to know is, whether they can safely take up and improve lands, within the limits understood to be covered by the grant, after July 4, 1877, at which time it is commonly supposed the grant expires and the land reverts to the government.

It may be supposed that the communications on this subject, signed "Judex," published in this paper a fortnight ago, has been generally read. It is not too much to assume that this article embodies the legal arguments by which the company will undertake to maintain the position, first, that the grant will not expire till July, 1879; and second, that no forfeiture will then ensue unless the power that created the corporation and conferred upon it its rights and privileges shall have instituted and completed proceedings to declare such forfeiture. Let us see what the statutes provide. Section eight of the original act of July, 1864, declares,—

That each and every grant, right and privilege herein are so made and given to, and accepted by, the said Northern Pacific Railroad Company, upon and subject to the following conditions, namely:—That the said company shall commence the work on the said road within two years from the approval of this act by the president, and shall complete not less than fifty miles per year after the second year, and shall construct, equip, furnish and complete the whole road by the 4th day of July, A. D., eighteen hundred and seventy-six.

Thus the original charter required that the road should be finished by July 4, 1876. But this is affected by two subsequent acts. The first of these was approved May 7, 1866. It is in words that follow:

And be it further enacted that the time for commencing and completing the Northern Pacific Railroad and all its several sections is extended for the term of two years.

This would extend the time to July 4, 1878. But the act of July 1, 1868, provides,—

That section eight of an act entitled an act granting lands, etc., is hereby amended, so as to read as follows: That each and every grant, right and privilege herein, are so made and given to and accepted by said Northern Pacific Railroad Company upon and subject to the following conditions, namely: That the said company shall commence the work on said road within two years from and after the second day of July, 1869, and shall complete not less than one hundred miles per year after the second year thereafter, and shall construct, equip, furnish and complete the whole road by the fourth day of July, 1877.

This is all the legislation relating to the time of completing the road. The joint resolution of May 31, 1870, authorized the location and construction of the main line by the valley of the Columbia river to Puget Sound, with details as to the portion to be completed each year between the main western terminus and Portland, Oregon; but it made no change of the limit of time required for the completion of the whole road.

The company's position now is that the last act quoted above takes the place of section eight of the original act; and therefore the joint resolution of May 7, 1866, extends the time for the completion of the road to two years from the limit named in the act of July 1, 1868;—in other words, for two years from July 4, 1877; and therefore the land grant will not expire till July 4, 1879. This point we have attentively considered, and it seems to us to be based on a theory more fanciful than sound. It is said that if this construction be not accepted the act of July 1, 1868, reduces the time one year. It is admitted that prior to the passage of this act the company had till July 4, 1878, to complete the road, but this would set it back to July 4, 1877, unless government accepts the above construction and interpretation of the statutes. But let it be observed that Congress did not propose by the resolution of July, 1868, to extend the time. That nowhere appears. This amendment of section eight of the original charter was subsequent to the resolution of May 7, 1866. It is the last declaration by Congress as to the time against which the road must be completed. Over the legal point involved herein, there will be dispute, and perhaps litigation. As to the other position, that forfeiture will not ensue until such forfeiture be declared by competent authority, there seems to be no reason to question the soundness of it.

What then are the rights of the settler? This is a subject involved for the present in so much doubt that it surely would not be prudent for the settler to invest money in this class of lands, claiming to hold the same on a title derived from ownership adverse to the railroad company. We have undertaken to cite the statutes and to give an epitome of the argument on both sides, and readers may draw their conclusions. But we must again speak cautionary words. It seems hazardous for settlers to go on these lands at present; and forfeiture ought to be declared at once, or the grant continued. Under proper limitations the latter would be preferable. But the present state of the question occasions great embarrassment, and action ought to be taken at the special session.

HOW TO BUILD THE ROAD.

It is not profitable, therefore, to dispute in regard to the present status of the land grant. On what conditions and under what limitations should the grant be extended? The company is in the best possible financial condition. It has nearly six hundred miles of road entirely clear of debt. In the land already earned on both divisions, and in the coal and timber it possesses at Puget Sound, it has great resources. From a point on the Columbia river to which navigation is certain and safe, the road may be built eastward rapidly. It would traverse a very fertile and valuable country. To make it certain that all rights and interests shall be properly guarded the land should not be given to the company as in the old grant, but the proceeds of sales of it. Enact the law in such shape that the company may contract for sale of the lands, send purchasers to the government land offices to pay the money and get certificates, and then come to the company for completion of title. Let these lands be sold at the same price at which the government offers its lands, and the avails will be sufficient to build the road from the Columbia river to Montana. A similar policy would build the eastern division to meet it, or, if it should prove that the sales of lands in the poorer localities were inadequate, the deficiency, which could not be very great, the company would be able to supply. The company's interest would require this, in order to get a through road.

A grant of alternate sections would give 12,800 acres a mile. If half this amount were sold at $2 50 an acre, it would yield enough, taken together with the company's present unencumbered resources, to build the division from the Columbia river into Montana territory. This would afford an outlet for a vast country. But it will be objected that this would leave the Columbia river in the hands of the corporation that now controls it. Since great corporations are necessary, and must exist or there can be no great enterprises, it makes little difference whether they are composed of one set of men or another; but this is an Oregon corporation and its interests are all here. Of course the road would be extended down the Columbia river, as soon as it could be done. Or this might be postponed, if locks at the portages should open the river to continuous navigation.

A plan like this would quickly develop a vast country. It would afford transportation for a region which is ample for the accommodation of a million inhabitants. It would add immensely to the commercial importance of western Oregon and Washington. It would give in a very short time a through line of road to unite us with the east, and put an end to our long isolation.

Finding he must quit Bulgaria, and thinking it doubtful whether he ever will be permitted to return to resume his system of robbery and murder, the "unspeakable Turk" proposes now to do his last work thoroughly. Hence he is perpetrating the most frightful atrocities. Those whom he does not slaughter he deprives of means of subsistence and leaves to perish by pestilence and starvation. If this shall be the last time, the worst he can do may be borne without despair. This bandit will never return to Bulgaria unless the "enlightened selfishness" of England shall interpose in his behalf, on the plea that British interests require it. And it is now announced that the Turkish party in the English cabinet has yielded to the opposite influence, and that there is less danger than ever of British interference.

Great interest will be taken by the public in the inquiry conducted by the sub-committee in the case of Senator Grover. We shall give a full report of the investigation. Readers may rely on finding in the OREGONIAN the whole testimony as taken from day to day. The fullness and fidelity of our report will be unquestionable. We have not assumed that Senator Grover is guilty of the charge made against him. The public has a right to expect perfect fairness in any presentation of the results of the inquiry; and this expectation will be met in the report presented through these columns.

Inasmuch as the San Francisco Bulletin is a respectable newspaper, it is in the highest degree improbable that this language ever appeared in its editorial columns, viz: Gen. Howard, of freedmen's bureau peculation notoriety, whose specialty is running puritanical Sunday schools and love feasts, and who has for his chief aid a blathering fanatical street exhorter." It is incumbent on the gentleman from Georgia to state from what number of the Bulletin he culled this choice extract.

In Nevada, Yuba and San Joaquin counties, Cal., Republicans have adopted at their conventions resolutions endorsing the policy of the president on civil service and his course toward the south,

NOTICE TO PERSONS INTENDING TO EMIGRATE TO OREGON.
Direct Passage from New York to Port and, Oregon.
LAND DEPARTMENT, O. & C. R. R.,
PORTLAND, June 25, 1877.
THE OREGON STEAMSHIP COMPANY HAS agreed to carry on its iron steamship, now being built at Chester, Pa., by John Roach & Son, upon her completion, on or about the 15th day of January, 1878, steerage passengers from New York to Portland, direct, via the Straits of Magellan, at the extremely low rate of $75.00 currency, board included.
This steamer will be the best, strongest and most comfortably arranged ship ever built in the United States. Speed, 13½ knots. Dimensions: 290 feet in length; 38 feet beam; 23½ depth of hold; capacity, 2,200 tons; 200 cabin and 500 steerage passengers. The fitting up of the steerage will receive special attention; it will be provided with all modern improvements and its ventilation will be perfect. Every attention will be paid to the comfort of passengers, and the fare will be of the best quality. Part of the deck room will be fitted up for refrigerating purposes, with a view to furnish passengers fresh meat during the whole voyage.
The voyage will be made in about sixty days.
To assist persons who desire to emigrate to Oregon, agricultural and other implements will be taken at very low rates.
For persons here who have friends in the Atlantic States wishing to come to Oregon this offers a rare opportunity, as the annoyances and fatigue of the overland route by rail are avoided, and the passage is considerably less.
For particulars in relation address F. C. Schmidt, 1 South William street, New York, or [je27] P. SCHULZE,
Land Agent O. & C. R. R. Co., Portland Oregon.

CITY.

MATTERS IN SOUTH AMERICA.—Dr. [illegible] of East Portland, received recently, from Col. E. A. Flint, Ariquepa, Peru, May 9th, two days before the occurrence of the late tidal wave, which caused such destruction of property and carried the Huascar two miles further inland. A [illegible] had lately broken out in the Peruvian navy, and one ironclad, the Huascar, who beat that of the American admiral in a fight at Callao in May, 1876, had sailed for Mollendo, the seaport of Ariquepa. In consequence of the thousands of tons of coal belonging to the railroad company with all the merchandise in the custom house, had been removed to the interior. Mr. Meigs has begun to contract for the completion of the Cuyco tunnel, and expects by the end of this year to have the line completed as far as the ancient capital of the Incas. It is possible that this extension may prevent the accomplishment of this enterprise, but not probable. Meiggs is still continuing his three mile tunnel at the Cerro Pasco mines, situated on the highest peaks in the Andes, one of the highest peaks in the Andes, in the latitude of Lima, and is also pushing the road to the head of navigation of the Amazon river. At this rate, Lima will in a short time have direct communication by a direct route with Liverpool, requiring only three weeks' transit, which is now made in six weeks, or two months. Col. Flint and family are well at the time of writing, and desire to be remembered to their numerous friends in Portland.

FALSE STATEMENT.—The Salem Record of the following relating to the Grover investigation, which is grossly unjust:

> The investigation is going on in the private room of Ben Holladay, a man notorious for having under the noses of members of Congress claims, or subsidies of some kind or other, and it does not look as if the committee intended giving Gov. Grover a fair show. His "white alley," holding the investigation in the house of a person with whom he is on even on speaking terms, and right under the influence of the custom house ring of the land, who will use every artifice to prevent the case." The committee meets in a building at the corner of Alder and Third streets, several blocks distant from Mr. Holladay's house, from which it will be seen how much truth there is in the above.

The bald eagle will fly "when a general good time may be anticipated."

ST. PAUL NOTES.—An occasional correspondent, writing from St. Paul, Marion county, under date of the 29th, says: "The crops in this vicinity never looked finer, and the prospects of a large yield never more encouraging. The school at this place, under the direction of Prof. Kaiser, is out, and the children are enjoying a vacation. On the evening of the 3d a social hop will be given in this place."

MISSION IN SOUTH AMERICA.—Dr. S. Parker of East Portland, received recently a letter from Col. E. A. Flint, Ariquepa, Peru, of date May 5th, two days before the occurrence of the late tidal wave, which caused so much destruction of property and carried the steamer Wateree two miles further inland. A mutiny had lately broken out in the Peruvian navy, and one ironclad, the Huascar, whose boat beat that of the American admiral in a regatta at Callao in May, 1876, had sailed for Molendo, the seaport of Ariquepa. In consequence of the seizure of tons of coal belonging to the steamship company with all the merchandise in the custom house, had been removed 30 miles into the interior. Mr. Meigs has begun his contract for the completion of the Cuyco railroad and expects by the end of this year to have it in operation completed as far as the ancient capital of the Incas. It is possible that this revolutionary movement may prevent the accomplishment of this enterprise, but not probable. Mr. Meigs is also continuing his three mile tunnel into the Cerro Pasco mines, situated on the side of one of the highest peaks in the Andes, in the latitude of Lima, and is also pushing his railroad to the head of navigation of the Amazon river. At this rate, Lima will in a short time, have communication by a direct route with Liverpool, requiring only three weeks in the trip, which is now made in six weeks or two months. Col. THE FOURTH AT VANCOUVER.—The Fourth will be celebrated at Vancouver. Hon. Joseph Healy will deliver the oration, L. R. Shaw, Esq., will read the Declaration, Rev. G. Collins, of the post, will act as chaplain and Geo. W. Durgin, Esq., will be president of the day. The public is cordially invited to be present. The bald eagle will fly "way up" and a general good time may be anticipated.

ST. PAUL NOTES.—An occasional correspondent, writing from St. Paul, Marion county, under date of the 29th, says: "The crops in this vicinity never looked finer, and the prospect for a large yield never more encouraging. The school at this place, under the direction of Mr. Kaiser, is out, and the children are enjoying a vacation. On the evening of the 4th a social hop will be given in this place."

LEE CHAPEL CONCERT.—They had a "way up" time at their concert at Lee chapel on Sunday evening last. Hon. Mr. Caples, who advertised to speak, failed to be present from some reason, but the place was supplied by Rev. Mr. Loubach, whose remarks were well received. Every one participating acquitted themselves admirably.

NEW BUILDING.—Mr. F. Dekum is erecting a handsome brick structure just across the street from the Bank of British Columbia. The site has heretofore been occupied by wooden structures, and the new building is a good improvement. We are told it is to be used by a wholesale boot and shoe dealer.

FOR ARMS.—Two men came down from Yakima county, W. T., last evening to obtain rifles and ammunition for the settlers in that county. There is trouble among the Indians on the reservation in charge of Father Wilbur, as will be observed by reference to a letter with another column from that section.

NEW BELL.—There arrived by the Elder, Sunday, a fine large bell, destined for Dayton, W. T., in care of Rev. J. Edwiston. The bell is of very clear tone. It is probable it will be used in summoning worshippers to church. The Oregon Brass Works has turned out some six bells, which always give satisfaction.

WOOL TO BOSTON.—To-day Barhard & Lee ship by steamer 200,000 pounds of purified wool to a Boston firm, to be followed by 50,000 pounds at a later date. This is the beginning of what may grow to be a large trade if properly conducted.

ST. MICHAEL'S COLLEGE.—The annual exhibition of St. Michael's College will take place this (Tuesday) afternoon. The exercises promise to be very highly interesting and instructive. None but the fortunate holders of tickets will be admitted.

COURT ADJOURNED.—Last Saturday Judge Deady adjourned the United States circuit and district courts until Monday July 9th. Judge Shattuck adjourned the state circuit court last Saturday until Thursday, July 5th, at the usual hour.

CHALLENGE ACCEPTED.—The Pioneers have accepted the challenge of the Clackamas nine to play on the Fourth at Oregon City. The Pioneers will meet this evening at their rooms to complete arrangements.

SOCIAL EVENTS.

The Waverley Club will probably give one of their pleasant moonlight excursions late this week.

The Turn Verein will give a ball at their hall tomorrow evening. As is usually the case with this society, they will make it a pleasant affair for all concerned.

P. S. S.—The people of East Portland and their friends intend to celebrate the coming Fourth of July by a dance given at Odd Fellows' Hall, under the auspices of the East Portland Social Club, beginning at 8:30 P. M., and thus ushering in the glorious morning of the anniversary of Washington's Day by devotion to the festive spirit as presided over by Terpsichore, the ancient goddess of dancing. Quite a large number of invitations have been issued and all the guests anticipate a delightful time. The music will be under the direction of the popular and talented gentleman, Prof. Bray, whose well known abilities in this line have placed him most eminent in his profession. The hall has been greatly improved by the addition lately completed of several rooms, giving abundant space for the dancing and accommodation in several ways for those who are present. Refreshments suitable to the season of the year will be furnished to those desiring them by the well-known caterer, Mr. Kaufman, of Portland. Everything needful will be convenient for the enjoyment of all who participate in the festivities of the occasion. Guests are particularly requested to present themselves at the side entrance on the hall, and by doing so, oblige those giving the entertainment.

THE COURTS.

CIRCUIT COURT—WOODWARD, J.—WOODWARD AND KELLY, COMMISSIONERS.

MONDAY, July 2, 1877.

IN LAW.

D. Gerard vs A. Croquette and A. Grenier; cause continued.

The Grover investigation will attract great attention this week—ditto Barnes' lunches.

THE RECEPTION.

The reception given last night by the board of trade to the senate investigation committee recently arrived in this state, composed of Senators Morton, Saulsbury and McMillan, was probably the most magnificent affair of the kind ever given in this city or state. Never have we witnessed a more fashionable ingathering of our citizens. We recognized among the large throng assembled a vast majority of our most prominent business and professional fellow-citizens, generally accompanied by their wives and daughters, elegantly and costly attired in silks and diamonds.

Turn Halle was very tastefully decorated with flags and mottoes. Over the stage occupied by the band were the words, in bold relief, "Oregon Greets Her Distinguished Visitors." Between each window on both sides of the hall were shields, representing our flag and national unity, and also the words, "Welcome to Morton, Saulsbury and McMillan." Streamers and flags also decorated other portions of the large room. The large concourse of ladies and gentlemen were presented to our distinguished guests through the formula of an introduction by ex-Senator Corbett and Colonel John McCraken. The senators, with their good wives, stood the frequent hand shaking and numerous expressions of congratulations with evident feelings of supreme satisfaction.

We have not the space or time to particularly mention all the names of the many prominent men of our city and state who were present, but among others we cannot fail to name ex Senator Corbett, ex-Senator Nesmith, Ben Holladay, Gen. Sprague, Hon. Rufus Mallory, Hon. Richard Williams, Col. Wilson, ex-Mayor Chapman, ex-Mayor Wasserman, Hon. J. N. Dolph, and many army officers in full uniform, besides representatives from the different foreign legations in this city. The display of fine toilets worn by the ladies, with pendent diamonds and massive jewelry, was dazzling and magnificent to look upon. After the introduction friends and acquaintances gathered in groups in social converse, and thus passed nearly two hours of the most refined and pleasant enjoyment. The band, at intervals, lent sweet strains of music, that added its share to the sum total of happiness.

At about 10:30 o'clock the hum of voices ceased, while ex-Senator Corbett, in a few well-chosen remarks, welcomed the senators, their families and associates to our state, and expressed the hope that their stay would be both pleasant and profitable. Senator Morton responded at some length, but owing to the crowded condition of our columns, as well as the lateness of the hour, we cannot even give a synopsis of his remarks. They were well chosen, however, and warmly received by the many present. Judge Strong also made some amusing remarks, when the reception, long to be remembered by the large assembly was ended. As we left preparations had already commenced for the dance, which undoubtedly lasted until the wee sma' hours of morning.

BRIEF NOTES.

"Fanchon" to night.

Where are you going to-morrow?

Very "kule" for the 3d day of July.

Keep your "optics" peeled for the fix fire on Mt. Hood to-morrow night.

The Ladies' Relief Society will meet this (Tuesday) afternoon at the usual place.

Plenty of opportunities to get out of the city to-morrow. "You pays your money, etc."

Hubbard's, Turner's, St. Joe and other places will hold special Fourth of July exercises.

Mrs. Agnes Caswell, of this city, was adjudged insane and taken to the asylum yesterday.

There is some talk of the Washington Guard and the artillery company going to Albany.

Summer tourists are debating whether to go to Hood river, Clatsop, Unity, or to summer resorts in Washington Territory.

No discount on gas bills after to-day. Call at the company's office and save one dollar on every thousand feet consumed.

From all appearances Oregon City will have a grand time on the Fourth. Portland will be represented in base ball and boating.

The Oneonta has been withdrawn from the Cascade route and the service will be done by the Willamette Chief until further notice.

Mr. L. W. Wallace, of Hawley, Dodd & Co., has been appointed by Gov. Ferry, commissioner of deeds for Washington Territory.

A stated meeting of Oregon lodge of Perfection No. 1 will be held at their lodge room, Masonic Temple, this (Tuesday) evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Baptist Foreign Missionary Circle will be held at the Baptist church Tuesday, the 3d, at 2 o'clock P. M.

Fine large cherries are numerous in market now. Peaches and grapes, along with various kinds of berries are also temptingly displayed at the groceries.

Capt. Tom Mountain reports by telegram from San Francisco that an operation was performed on his leg last Friday. He is doing well under the circumstances.

An extra train will leave Portland on Wednesday morning at 7 o'clock for St. Joseph, to give opportunity to those wishing to celebrate at St. Joe. Tickets will be good for two days—fare, half price.

Juveniles play games in the city parks and in the blocks recently improved on Park street. It seems too bad the boys have so few places to play their ball games, etc.: but it will not do for them to despoil the shrubbery in the parks.

TROUBLE AT SIMCOE RESERVATION.

YAKIMA CITY, W. T., June 27, 1877.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Our citizens are very much alarmed, as some of the Indians belonging to this (Simcoe) reservation, have grown quite impudent since receiving the news of Col. Perry's defeat, telling us that the land we occupy is theirs, and that they are going to have it.

On Monday, the 25th, two Indians came down from the Spokane country and told the Indians in Kittitass and this valley to get out from among the whites, that there were about 500 warriors in that country who were about to make a descent on these settlements, and they didn't want to kill any but the Bostons. This came from an Indian squaw who is living among us and is friendly to the whites. This report threw many of our citizens, especially the women and children, into an excitement little short of frenzy. That night nearly all the citizens collected with their families and bedding in the Centennial hall and remained there until the next day.

On yesterday, the 26th, a session of the board of county commissioners was held, and a requisition for 200 stand of arms was made and forwarded to The Dalles by a special messenger, who left this place last night at 7 o'clock.

Several bands of armed Indians have left this reservation to join Joseph's band, and more talk of going. Steps are being taken to stockade a portion of this city.

"BOSTON."

POLICE COMMISSIONERS.

Last evening the new board of police commissioners met at the police court building.

Present—Burrell, Riley and Connell.

The petition, signed by a large number of taxpayers of the city, asking the board to retain James H. Lappeus as chief of police, was read and on motion laid on the table.

The petition signed by a number of the prominent taxpayers, asking to have officer McCoy retained as a special policeman, was read and laid on the table.

A communication from James K. Mercer, asking for the appointment of captain on the police force, was read and tabled.

Communication from John Donnovan, asking to be appointed a member of the police force, was read and laid on the table.

The following appointments were made: For chief of police, L. Besser, vice James H. Lappeus, removed; H. S. Allen captain, vice B. P. Collins, resigned; Daniel Shea, policeman, vice A. B. Brannan, resigned.

Dr. E. A. Jones, rooms 1 and 3, second floor Strowbridge building, First and Alder streets. The doctor occupies room No. 13 at night. Calls promptly attended day or night. Having made the diseases of women and children a specialty, I am prepared to treat all such cases.

Ladies desiring to obtain Madam Gillison's celebrated charts with full instructions in cutting dresses, polonais basques and all kinds of ladies and children's clothing, can do so by calling third door from Fourth on Yamhill.

THE FOURTH.

Where and How Portlanders Propose to Observe the Day.

To-morrow will be the 101st anniversary of American independence, and is therefore the "day we celebrate." Our patriotic citizens cannot consent to allow the day to pass without due and proper observance. There will be no regular celebration held by the city, as in previous years, but that fact does not prevent the average American citizen from laying aside all the thoughts and cares of business, and to devote the day to real, genuine pleasure.

SCHUETZEN FEST.—The members of the Portland Schuetzen Verein will hold a prize shooting match to-morrow at Willamette Grove Park. This place is only a few miles above Portland, and a more lovely and convenient spot could not be selected to spend the day. A boat will leave the city several times during the day for the grounds, for the accommodation of all who desire to visit the park. A general invitation is extended to the public. Music has been provided, and all who attend may confidently anticipate a good time.

EXCURSION TO ALBANY.—The citizens of Albany, with that measure of generous hospitality for which they are proverbial, have extended a cordial invitation to the mayor of Portland, members of the common council, city officials, firemen, military organizations, and to the citizens generally, to attend the celebration to be held there to-morrow. We are not aware that the invitation has been accepted with the understanding that any of the societies or city officials will attend in a body; but the kind invitation has been generally accepted, and no doubt several hundred Portlanders will visit Albany to-morrow for the purpose of participating in the exercises which are to be held in that city. For the accommodation of those who propose to avail themselves of the invitation, a special train will leave here to morow morning and return with the visitors in the evening. Half-fare tickets will be sold for Albany and way stations.

EXCURSION TO CASCADES.—One of the most enjoyable affairs of the season will be the excursion to the Cascades to morrow under the auspices of the ladies of the social union—of the M. E. Church. The splendid steamer E. N. Cooke has been chartered for the trip, and will leave Central wharf, foot of Washington street with the excursionists at 7 o'clock, A. M., to morrow. During the trip to the Cascades appropriate exercises for the occasion will be held on board the steamer, consisting of an oration, reading the Declaration of Independence, interspersing with vocal and instrumental music. Tickets can be had at I. K. Gill's book store, C. C. Morse's music store, and Parrish & Cornell's real estate office. Refreshments can be had on the boat at reasonable prices. The ladies in charge of the excursion will make ample provision for the comfort, convenience and pleasure of those who go. In order to avoid a crowd the number of tickets has been limited. A splendid opportunity is thus afforded all who attend to enjoy a day's pleasure and view some of the most magnificent scenery on the American continent.

PICNIC—ST. ANDREW'S SOCIETY.—To-morrow the postponed picnic of the St. Andrew's Society will take place at McMillan's grounds, near Oswego. The steamer City of Salem has been chartered for the day, and will make two trips to the grounds—the first at 8:30 A. M. and the second at 1 P. M.—from the Pacific wharf. In order also to accommodate pleasure-seekers at Oregon City, on that day, who may wish to join in the picnic or come to Portland, it has been arranged that the steamer will make an extra trip. After landing the excursionists at the picnic grounds she will proceed to Oregon City, leaving there about 10:30, returning from Portland in the evening at 6, calling at the picnic grounds going and coming. A band of music will accompany the excursionists, and a good programme of dancing, races and Highland games has been prepared. Altogether this will be one of the most enjoyable picnics of the season. Extra care will be taken that none but respectable citizens will be present, and no intoxicating liquor will be sold on the ground. Tickets, $1 each; children between 6 and 12, 50 cents, and all under 6 free.

EAST PORTLAND PARK.—This favorite resort has been selected by the members of the Portland Hibernian Benevolent Society for holding to-morrow a grand national picnic. Carpenters have been engaged for some days in laying a new platform for dancing purposes and making sundry other necessary improvements to the grounds. No expense has been spared by the committee having the matter in charge, to render the grounds and all surroundings pleasant and comfortable. The Northwestern Brass and String Band has been engaged to furnish parade and dancing music. During the forenoon there will be a military and civil parade through the streets of this city. After which the procession will march directly to the park, where the literary exercises are to be held. The following are the officers of the day: Grand Marshal, R. Caballin; Reader of Declaration, Sidney Dell; Orator, Dr. Paul M. Breman; President of the Day, R. B. Sinnott. Committee of Arrangements, Wm. J. Quirk, Thos. Kearney, Frank Gatens. At the conclusion of the exercises, the following sports will be indulged in: Ladies' target shooting, foot racing, sack racing, etc., to all of which suitable prizes will be given. A grand prize will be given for the best company shooting. In the evening there will be a grand display of fireworks. Price of admission 50 cents. Children under 10 years free. A general invitation is extended to all organizations in the city and state to take part in the parade, and report to Grand Marshal R. Caballin as speedily as possible.

AMUSEMENTS.

MISS MAYHEW'S FANCHON.—A splendid audience—numerically, socially and intellectually—greeted Miss Mayhew on the first appearance of Miss Mayhew at New Market Theater. On the occasion of her successful debut before a Portland audience, Miss Mayhew appeared in one of her favorite impersonations, Fanchon, The Cricket. The little lady surpassed the most sanguine expectation of her friends in her representation of her beautiful character of "Fanchon." To successfully and effectively delineate the character, Miss Mayhew seems to be the fortunate possessor of all those requisite elements. She is very handsome, has a smooth soft and well modulated voice, excellent facial expression, lithe and graceful in all her movements, good stage presence, easy and natural, and possessing a certain winning mannerism of look, action and gesture which paints a charm to all her acting. She was just petite enough for the wayward and neglected Fanchon, full of weird freaks and odd fancies, but yet possessing all the noble and gentle qualities of the true girl-woman. Her characterization of the part must be recorded as fresh, charming and instinct with all the grace of the finished artiste. How well she succeeded in realizing public anticipation was evidenced by the hearty plaudits which marked the progress of the play. "Fanchon" is an old and hackneyed play, but with Miss Mayhew in the title role, and supported as she was last evening it seems like a new dramatic creation, and has a charm quite refreshing. The support last evening was prompt and efficient. And the play progressed without hitch or perceptible friction. Mrs. Norton Bush, as the old witch, although a part ill suited to that lady, acquitted herself most creditably, and displayed a degree of versatility surprising to her friends. Mr. Maguire personated "Landry" very satisfactorily; Mr. Bryan, "Didier," in his customary clever style, Miss Abbott, "the handsome Madeline" and "Mrs. Barbeau," to the satisfaction of the audience, and Mr. Herne, as "Father Barbeau," up to his usual standard of excellence. The more subordinate characters of the play were entrusted to careful and competent hands.

To-night "Fanchon" will be repeated for the last time. Do not fail to see Miss Mayhew. In active course of preparation, Bret Harte's dramatized story "M'Liss."

PETITION.

The following petition was presented last evening to the board of police commissioners, which was read and laid on the table:

To the Honorable Board of Police Commissioners—

GENTLEMEN: We, the undersigned citizens and taxpayers of the City of Portland, irrespective of political preferences, respectfully represent that James H. WANTED.—A girl to take care of children. Inquire at southeast corner Washington and East Park street.

NOTES FROM ALBANY.

Our regular correspondent sends the following under date of July 2d:

No fire alarms now-a-days.

Quite a number of strangers in the city.

Preparations in the grove for the 4th are complete.

A number of families have returned from the Cascades.

The celebration this week will be hard on the chickens.

THE OREGONIAN is very much sought for at the present in view of the war news.

The different houses in this place are selling a large amount of machinery to the farmers.

Mrs. Welch, of the Dalles, daughter of Luther Elkins, is now in our city visiting her friends.

Large amounts of wool are coming into this market, which are selling at 28 cents, with an upward tendency.

Now is the time for school teachers to send in their applications to the school clerk if they want positions in this city.

We are sorry to learn that one of our very popular teachers of the public schools (Mr. Thomson) leaves this week for Puget Sound.

The new bell tower is up, which reflects great credit on Mr. Taylor, the builder, who is said to be one of the best carpenters in the state.

The rain storm last week was unexpected, which caused some winter wheat to lodge, but in the main added thousands of bushels to the present crop.

The coming glorious Fourth is the great absorbing question in this part of the country. There will be from five to ten thousand people in our city on that day, so it is thought.

The schools now being suspended gives ample time for the directors to see the deformities of the Central School building. If any one can describe its looks without the use of poetry it is well. Indeed this city is entitled to a much better building for school purposes, as the present house is not in keeping with the importance of this place.

A CARD FROM THE NEW CHIEF.

Citizens of Portland: Having been appointed Chief of Police by the good men you have seen fit to trust as Police Commissioners, and believing that reforms are necessary, I now appeal to you to stand by me in the faithful discharge of office duty. I shall not be controlled by political rings and juntas, but by the dictates of humanity, of law and justice. I shall undertake to bring what ability I possess to the task of guarding well the material interests of the city and to the conservation of its moral condition as much as possible. If I succeed I shall have cause for just pride.

L. BESSER.

Portland, July 3, 1877.

ATTENTION!

As we have made arrangements with a large manufacturing house in the East for our fall importation, we will, therefore, announce to the public at large that we will sell our entire stock of clothing and gents' furnishing goods for the next 30 days at a small advance above Eastern manufacturing prices. It is needless for us to publish prices, but a call at our establishment will convince you that we keep the best assorted stock this side of San Francisco, and you will find our prices less than any other house in the State.

TUESDAY MORNING, JULY 3, 1877.

FROM PORTLAND TO ASTORIA.

RETROSPECTION — HUNTING FOR THE "HAYWOOD"—BEAUTIES OF COLUMBIA RIVER SCENERY—A TRIBUTE TO THE RIVER CAPTAINS AND OFFICERS.

"BAY VIEW," COLUMBIA RIVER, June 28, 1877.

My arrival in Oregon was attended with somewhat of disappointment, because necessity compelled Com. Connor, of the Geo. W. Elder to traverse the Columbia from Astoria to Portland by night. Sailing up this historically interesting and beautiful river had been the golden promise whose fulfillment my hungry eyes longed to gaze upon in silent ecstasy, but the passage was performed with noiseless footsteps, while a duskiness curtained all the pleasing landscape. Reluctantly we sought our cabined retreat, vainly wooing and courting the drowsy god, who coquetted with our desire for forgetfulness.

OPENED EYED WONDER BECAME

For the nonce personified, as we crept to the window, and pulled back the shutters, as the verdure-mantled islands swung out into the dark river waters. Tall, silent trees, with feet plunged in the tide, reached ghostly arms towards us, while one blazing star looked down unwinkingly, just above the rim of the hills, whose bayoneted tops seemed to prop up the canopied sky. Anon the morning stars sang together—the grey dawn lifted her cloudy veil—the twitter of awakening birds was heard in the thickets which crept to the water's hem. Our boat glided on and on, while at least one wakeful pilgrim watched each step of her progress.

"WHAT ARE YOU DOING THERE,

With your head out of the window all night?" Came from the depths of the lower berth in my room. "I cannot sleep, we are nearing Portland—come and see it!" "Oh, nonsense! I've sailed up the river too many times!"

Now my dear OREGONIAN, your correspondent's voyage of the lower Columbia, being a weird half-waking dream, please take a wide-awake flight with me over her broad surface, from your beautiful city down to the sea, that a rehearsal of our wanderings may not be like a tale begun at the 12th chapter. We were told that it was the correct thing to go on board the

"HAYWARD" OVER NIGHT,

Because she started down river so early in the morning." I do not propose to tell you what a circuitous route we traversed—that we boarded the Dixie Thompson and invaded the Oneonta before we were challenged by the purser of the Hayward with, "say! where's your pilot, or perhaps you are in no hurry?" "Don't care if it takes two hours!" was the hearty rejoinder of the chief of our lively party, who by this time had succeeded in safely escorting us to the grand saloon. Then there were hand shakings, and "good byes," and kisses (among the ladies, mind), and we were left to the gentle ministrations of such refreshing sleep as might be held between the lids of the wee small hours, which had already begun to count their rosary. Alas, for myself, a strange wakefulness opened eyes that sleep touches lightly, and donning raiment, we might have trod the still silent city streets to bid again adieu to our boon companions, long ere the bustle of departure was complete, and the curt whistle signified "cast off the lines!"

At the same moment the Dixie Thompson repeats her signal, and as each boat pushes from her moorings, we were honored by a most courteous and friendly salute from our genial friends, Mr. and Mrs. Hall, of New York, who were bound upon a tour of Puget Sound via Kalama.

THE VIEW OF PORTLAND

As we sail down the river, is one of surpassing loveliness. From wood-crowned steeps, which seem to touch the bending sky, to the river's hem braided with its vari-tinted forms of vegetation, trees, shrubs, flowering vines and creeping mosses; the scene smiles with glints of sunshine, while the strong shadows hiding here and there are only the dimples which lighten nature's waking loveliness. We make it a point to do the agreeable to the officers of the boats, especially the captains, and found that of the several sterling commanders at whose hands we have received courtesies, Capt. Pease, of the Emma Hayward, ranks at a high standard. Cordially tendering us a seat in the pilot house, we posted ourselves in an eligible perch to view all points of interest and historical note on the down trip.

THE HAYWARD IS A NICE,

Well arranged boat, clean and commodious, and as she breasted the mirrored waters like a white swan, with the Dixie Thompson following close in her rear, sailing between shores, whose green-lined edges trailed their shadows in the river's margin, we fancied for the moment that we were nearing not leaving the "fortunate isles," drifting over a silver sea, which reflected the white-winged clouds above. St. Helen's landing, with its rapacious sawmill eating its way into the heart of the pine forests; it is a cosy spot, with its tiny church set upon a terraced hight. Two old trees we noticed were labeled with squares of white canvas, which being tacked upon the trunk, range with the buoys on the bar, a compass, in the near past, for the mariners' eye by day, with red and green lanterns,

AS WATCHFUL BEACONS AT NIGHT.

Next we pass Columbia City and then Warrior Point, made memorable by the forced detention of the N. P. T. Co.'s steamer Sierra Nevada, having been run upon a rock because of mistaking the channel, by the river pilot. The news was hummed over the wires to California that "the steamer had her back broken in the Columbia river." We reach Kalama at 9 o'clock, where we land a band of sheep, which are bound for the Sound country so we are told. The cars are in waiting to convey the passengers of the Dixie Thompson (which we left behind as she made some river landing), on another passage of their journey through woods and fields to Tacoma. What splendid visions obscured the retina of sober judgment when Kalama was brought to notice as the rival of Portland! With all the advantages and emoluments that a Northern Pacific road would roll to her doors, whence would come the space for homes; and where shall her marts of commerce and exchange be builded? We should have to terrace and then build the Utopian city upon the ambitious slopes, if not upon the seven hills themselves, which crowd sharply down to the shelving shore.

AS WE ADVANCE, THE COLUMBIA

Widens into broad bays, hiding inlets, and jutting capes are fortressed by the deft hand of nature's workmen into a semblance of wondrous masonry. Coffin rock is a bold promontory that in early times, we are told, was covered with Indian graves, and at Eagle Cliff we saw evidences of the continuance of the water washed benches which have written their strange hieroglyphics on tablets of stone along the length of the upper Columbia, not unlike the figures on the dial plate of centuries. At Cathlamet we scanned through the captain's glasses old Madame Birney, who invariably appears in one spot outside her dwelling at the arrival of each daily steamer. Have called at all the canneries; have dropped Uncle Sam's compliments in the form of mail bags here and there; taken on wood to nourish the hungry maw of the Emma Hayward, who is possessed of a voracious appetite.

OUR UBIQUITOUS PURSER, MR. O'NEIL,

Who is noted for being the most obliging person on the river, inasmuch as he is everybody's servant, was as usual, inundated with numerous letters, bundles, bird cages, and was always the first off and the last on the boat at the several landings of the steamer. A long trail of sooty smoke above a green island proclaimed the vicinity of the City of Chester who soon made her appearance, the waters curling about her prow in a wreath of foam as she breasted the swift current on her way to your city. And now we are bound on a tour of investigation of the manner of canning salmon, doing Bay View, Astoria and various other points of attraction, meantime.

CALIFORNIA.

Fire and Loss of Life.

SAN JOSE, July 2.—A fire broke out in a story and a half frame building, corner of Market and San Fernando streets, occupied by Martin Detlefsen as a bar room, grocery and boarding house. The fire department responded promptly but were unable to save the building. After it was partially consumed Jerry Lynch, who had been asleep in it, jumped out of the window. He was badly burned and crippled. The remains of another man named Augustus Gough were found in the ruins after the fire.

Strange Death.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 1.—About 6 A. M. the body of Michael Canavan, a hackman, was discovered lying in the mud in the bed of Mission creek. He is supposed to have wandered there in a state of intoxication, and falling down was suffocated. The chemical matter with which the bed of the creek is impregnated from the chemical works higher up on the creek had turned the body to a variously mottled hue, presenting a horrible appearance.

Linderman at Work.

Director Linderman and his fellow investigators have been busy at the mint all day counting bullion preparatory to inquiry into the affairs of that institution.

Walking Match.

VIRGINIA CITY, July 1.—The walking match of one mile, at the race track to-day, between Isaac Chapman, champion of Nevada, and an unknown man, entered as "The Shepherd Boy," was won by the latter.

OREGON.

There are 10,000 sheep in Klamath valley. Only 25 soldiers are left at the military post.

Wheat is ripening in Jackson county. Golden yellow spots are seen from the Times office.

From the Record we learn that Dr. McCauley, who gave morphine to Miss Alice Townsend, resulting in death, has been arrested and lodged in jail. It is charged that he was intoxicated at the time.

Jacksonville Times: The company proposing to construct the Sterling ditch have advertised for men to contract for digging the same. They have 16 miles to be dug, and offer to let it in sections of one mile to five, as bidders may elect.

Friday night four horses were stolen from the barn of Geo. Mercer of South Salem. One of them could not be ridden and was left behind. On Saturday the other three were found tied in the woods near the fair grounds, the thieves evidently waiting for night to come so they could leave for other parts.

The Salem Mercury says that the OREGONIAN'S remarks about those papers that pirate news from its columns are never give credit, are "a sure sign of its own waning prestige and power." Very well; since its prestige has waned as a newspaper, the Mercury will hardly want it longer: and it could reduce its exchange list with profit to itself by cutting off all such petty frauds in the newspaper line as the Mercury.

The Astorian has a letter from a little girl at Kinskanine, of which this is an extract: A little girl wants to know why you town people should let ten or fifteen lazy men keep saloons, instead of earning their living at some useful work, and why do not the ministers preach as much against liquor as well as they preach sgin those that git drink, if ther were no grogshops ther would be great pease through out the town, ther would not be so manny rows and fights and shooting.

THE TERRITORIES.

Two sharpers have been swindling at Tacoma by playing off a belt filled with iron obeli for twenty dollar pieces. They raised $60 or $70, and slid.

Mrs. Norton, who was killed by the Idaho Indians, was sister to Miss Linn Bowers, who was rescued by the pickets. They were from Linn county, Oregon.

City fathers, beware. The grand jury of the district court of Washington Territory have indicted the city council of Kalama for failure to call a city election when required to do so by the charter.

At Olympia on the Fourth a procession of Ancient Horribles will parade, accompanied by a band of jewsharps; Gov. Woodruff will harangue the American eagle, and Gen. Percival will read the Turkish declaration of war.

Specimens of the fish called the eulachon have been sent by J. G. Swan of Port Townsend to Prof. Baird at Washington. They reached their destination in good order. The fish is very valuable for oil. It will be propagated at the east.

The exports of coal from Seattle aggregated last month 9,622 tons, against 8,475 tons in June, 1876; and for the six months just expired 59,798 tons, against 53,138 tons during the first half of 1876, and 26,845 tons during the first half of 1875.

TO DR. PAUL M. BRENAN—

For the past year and a half I have been suffering from Nervous and General Debility, Kidney Disease, Loss of Flesh and Strength, dizziness in the head and a constant pain through the back and loins. I became so debilitated and broken down that I was unfitted for business. I have been to Victoria and all over the coast under medical treatment for the past nine months, without receiving any benefit whatever, and had almost given up hopes of ever recovering, until I came under your treatment, about seven weeks ago. From the very first your treatment seemed to work like a charm, and I constantly improved from the beginning. I have gained 14 pounds of flesh, and I am now, thanks to your skillful treatment, perfectly well, and am able to return to my business on the Snohom sh. JAMES KING.
Seattle, March 31, 1877.

To the People: I have been troubled with chronic Nasal Catarrh for years, the disease being so aggravated that there was constantly an effusion of matter passing down into my throat behind the palate and down through my nostrils.

My nose became depressed between the eyes and swollen on each side. I was told by physicians that it was a polypus: that some of the blood vessels were involved and that the removal would endanger my life by hemorrhage. I became so bad that I made up my mind that I must have immediate relief or die.

As a last resort I applied to Dr. Paul M. Brenan, who, after a moment's examination, determined what to do. He said the nasal bone was involved and diseased, and that there would have to be a portion of it removed. He at once removed the bone tumor containing the ulcer; also the diseased portion of bone and pancatory gland and cured the catarrh. I am now perfectly well and as free from disease as ever I was in my life.
THOMAS D. MURPHY.
Seattle, April 5th, 1877.

DR. PAUL M BRENAN—Dear Sir: I take great pleasure in stating for the benefit of those who are afflicted with any chronic disease, that I am now a well man. For the past two years I have been under the medical treatment of different physicians, from which I have received no benefit. I have been suffering with general and nervous debility, a difficulty in my stomach, and at times dizziness and severe headache, almost incapacitating me for work. About three weeks ago I put myself under your care, and I can say with delight that I am cured and feel like myself again, after having partaken of your skillful treatment. To me now, labor seems a pleasure. I say this much, hoping it will be the means of attract ng the suffering to you who can relieve and cure them.
Yours Truly, JOHN BALLARD,
Employed at Colman's Saw Mill, Seattle.

[I will not publish any cures performed by me unless by the full consent of the parties.]
PAUL M. BRENAN.
